Unfortunately, skin and coat issues are all-too-common, affecting a significant percentage of dogs and cats. How would you characterize your pet's skin and coat? Does she or he have dry, flaky skin or a dull, brittle coat? Do you notice an oily residue on the skin or the presence of mats in the coat? Are areas of the skin red and blotchy? Does your pet have a thin, sparse coat? Have you ever seen them scratching repeatedly and excessively, especially when the seasons change? If your companion animal's skin or coat is less than perfect, you may want to try Life's Abundance™ Skin & Coat Formula For Dogs & Cats.

Life's Abundance™

Skin & Coat Formula With Omega-3, Vitamin E & B Complex For Dogs & Cats

Even though the skin is the body's largest organ, it takes a backseat to other organs when it comes to nutrition. In fact, the nutrients eaten by your pet go directly to the other vital organs first (such as the brain, heart, lungs and liver); as a consequence, the skin often suffers. Even if you are already feeding your companion animal a high-quality, nutritionally dense food, sometimes it's just not enough to ensure skin and coat health. In fact, problems relating to the skin and coat are much more common than you might think as they account for a significant percentage of trips to the vet.

A comprehensive nutritional supplement, Skin & Coat Formula With Omega-3, Vitamin E & B Complex For Dogs & Cats addresses skin and coat health in a holistic way. Unlike ordinary skin and coat supplements that contain fatty acids and a few other ingredients, this formula supplies a whole host of additional nutrients that work together to address the complex factors that play a role in supporting skin and coat health. The nutrients featured in this formula can yield several health-promoting benefits. Here are just some of the highlights of how this supplement works ...

- In addition to skin-nourishing omega-3 fatty acids, this formula contains vitamin E and zinc, which help increase the effectiveness of the fatty acids.

- This formula also contains vitamin C, which supports healthy collagen development.

- And to top it off, Skin & Coat Formula contains seven different B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, d-pantothenic acid, niacin, pyridoxine, B12 and biotin), all of which work with the other nutrients in this formula to aid in the many complex chemical reactions required for healthy skin and coat.

If your companion animal's skin or coat is less than perfect, try a bottle of Skin & Coat Formula with a comprehensive line-up of nutrients that work together to help support healthy skin and a shiny coat.
